"It is about three years now since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, and we always have it for breakfast and before retiring and sometimes for lunch. I was so sick from what the doctors called acute indigestion and brain fag before I began to use Grape-Nuts that I could neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort. I was afflicted at the same time with the most intense pains, accompanied by a racking headache and backache, every time I tried to eat anything. Notwithstanding an unusual pressure from my professional duties, I was compelled for a time to give up my work altogether. "Then I put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts and cream alone, with an occasional cup of Postum Food Coffee as a runner-up, and sometimes a little dry toast. I assure you that in less than a week I felt like a new man-I had gained six pounds in eight, could sleep well and think well. "The good work went on, and I was soon ready o return to business, and have been hard at it, and enjoying it, ever since. Command me at any time any one inquires as to the merits of Grape-Nuis. You will find me always ready to testify." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

gencer. Freight Vessels Scarce.

There is said to be a scarcity of vessels employed in general freighting on the river, and the lumber dealers here are finding it difficult to charter vessels to run cargoes to this city, though high rates are offered The dealers all have cargoes on the James, Rappahannock and other rivers in Virginia and are anxious to get them here, but the difficulty is to get vessels to bring it. Much of the scarcity of vessels is due to the fact that many of the schooners ordinarily employed in running wood and lumber car-goes to this city are now employed in dredg-ing for oysters or in running with them to the markets here and at Baltimore. During the summer $1.50 was about the average price per thousand feet paid for lumber. Today $2.25 and $2.50 per thousand is being paid, but even at this price vessels are very difficult to find that will bring cargoes here.

Overhauling Lighthouses. The United States lighthouse service engineers' steamer Jessamine has sailed from Baltimore on a cruise among the light stations on Chesapeake bay and its tributaries. On the trip the crew of the Jessamine, the greater portion of whom are trained megreater portion of whom are trained mechanics, will overhaul and repair all the lighthouses in the district and will put them in trim to withstand the storms that will blow around them during the coming winter. This will, in all probability, be the last repairing cruise that the Jessamine will make this fall, unless the winter is an open one and there is but little ice. The crew of the Jessamine have to keep in repair all the lighthouses in Chesapeake bay and its tributaries and in the waters of the Carolina.

Vegetable Juice Cure for Consumption.

The newspapers announce that all the prominent physicians of New York have received a circular from the New York Post Graduate Hospital giving an account of the wonderful cures of consumption through the use of the juice of raw vegetables and fruits. It seems that the treatment began by the use of potatoes, onions, beets, turnips, cabbages and celery. Later there were added sweet potatoes, apples, pineapples, carrots and parsnips, and still later rhubarb, summer squash, tomatoes, spinach, radishes, string beans and green peas in the pod.

It would seem to be absurd on its face that such treatment could be used to effectually combat consumption, vet so high an authority as Dr. Russell of the above-named hospital, who seems to have made the discovery and developed the treatment, states that eleven cases of well-developed pulmonary tuberculosis have been absolutely cured while fifty others are under treatment and progressing satisfactorily.

It is to be hoped that the long looked for cure of this dread disease has at last been found in this treatment, but the medical profession will, doubtless, be sceptical, as they are and should be on all new treatments until more than eleven cases have been cured by a combination of simple vegetable juices that contain little, if any, of the nourishment required by the consumptive. As Dr. Russell says he has been the principal advocate of nutrition as opposed to medicine in the treatment of tuberculosis, he seems to controvert his own theory in the use of these vegetable juices that possess such a small percentage

Hygiene and nutrition of the best sort are absolute requisites in the treatment of consumption. If the laws of health are carefully observed and the body is sustained with nutritious, wholesome, easily digested food, the ravages of the disease may be arrested, even when the lung tissue is involved. There is little question that the best nutrition in the world in such cases is the old and much abused cod liver oil; not in its raw state, but in the form best adapted for its immediate absorption into the body, as found in Scott's Emulsion of pure Norwegian cod liver oil, which contains, in addition, the valuable hypophosphites of lime and soda and glycerine. We hesitate to say that it will cure consumption, but after thirty years' experience with it, the medical profession knows that it will arrest the progress of the disease and in its earlier stages generally effect a permanent cure. So certain are we of this that we challenge a comparative clinical test in any hospital or sanitarium where there are patients afflicted with this malady. If it will not cure more cases of consumption, if the same rules are observed, than the vegetable and fruit juice treatment, we will agree to supply the institution making the test with Scott's Emulsion free for a year. There is no doubt that Scott's Emulsion is the most concentrated form of nutrition in existence, and if consumption can be cured at all it will do it. SCOTT & BOWNE, 400 Pearl Street, New York.

PARENTS SHOW INTEREST IN STAR'S ART CONTEST.

Supervising Principal Kimball of the third division of the local public schools conducted Miss Brinkhaus, director of The buildings of the northeastern section this morning, thus completing the round of the division. The buildings visited were the Maury, Edmonds, Hilton and Peabody. Miss Brinkhaus was entertained at luncheon by the teachers of the Peabody. The teachers said that the pupils are wide awake and enthusiastic in their work for the prizes of statuary and relief work in The Star's magnificent collections. In the Hilton two pupils, a boy and a girl, have outdistanced all the others in the vote gathering. At the last returns they were well in the lead, and the envy of their schoolmates. These are Herbert Dick and the director on the mezzanine floor of The Star building, and each afternoon after the close of school swarms of pupils and teach-cis visit the lobby to examine the statues on exhibition there. Interest in the col-lection does not seem to abate in the least from day to day. All Seem Satisfied.

Not only pupils and parents, but publicspirited citizens of all classes and kinds have nice things to say about the portion of the collections now on exhibition. One visitor yesterday-a gentleman who is regarded as capable of giving opinions on art subjects-declared The Star's casts were better than those in the art gallery. The Star's bust of Moses, by Michel Angelo, is one of the finest pieces of statuary in the collection. The original in Rome represents the great law-giver of the He-represents the great law-g.ver of the Hebrews in a sitting position and holding in his right hand the tablets of the law. It is full length and of heroic size. The bust or upper part of the figure is the strongest portion, and properly mounted, as this one is, it makes a magnificent cast. It is one foot and four inches in height. Michel Angelo.

Michel Angelo, or Michelangelo, as the name is often written, was a famous Italtan sculptor, painter and architect, who the navy yard, Norfolk, Va., department of was born in Caprese, Tuscany, in 1475. He came of a good family in Florence. At an early age he became a student of fine art, first entering the workshop of Domen'co Bigordi, and studying also in a primitive kind of art school which had been formed in the palace gardens of Lorenzo di Med'ci. It appears that the extraordinary achities of the boy were noticed by his patrons, and also by the artists of the epoch from the very first. He thought of himself only as a sculptor, and he put his energies into the study of bas-relief and statuary, studying the remains of Graeco-Roman antiquity, which were accessible, and producing works of such importance as to surprise his contemporaries, although most of these early works are either lost altogether or are uncertain. The earliest very important work which has remained until today is the Pieta, which is now in a chapel of St. Peter's Church, in Rome.

The real success of Michel Angelo began with the election of Pope Julius II, for he was called upon by the new pone in 1500 early age he became a student of fine art,

WORK HARD FOR VOTES desired to finish within his own lifetime. This monument was never completed, however, and the controversies and other diffiever, and the controversies and other diffi-culties which arose continuously in regard to it embittered a large part of the great artist's life and consumed time which could but ill be spared from his actual labors. The great statue of Moses, the bust of which is in The Star's collection, was ex-ecuted at a somewhat later time, not ex-actly fixed, and was the only very imporactly fixed, and was the only very important piece of statuary completed for this
